Thank you!

When someone enters your kitchen, you want to hear: "Wow, what's that you're making?!" And not: "Eww, what was that you made yesterday?"

Presenting your kitchen garbage disposal, that wonderful home appliance that makes shorter work of the after-meal clean-up process. But by taking a few extra minutes during and in between clean ups, you won't have to worry about lingering odors and bacteria build-up inside your disposal.

Sanitizing your garbage disposal can be done quickly, using ingredients you already have in your home. Here are a few simple ways your disposal can be germ-free in minutes, letting you get on with your busy day:

- Pour a 1/4 cup of hydrogen peroxide down the drain and turn on the garbage disposal while running the cold water for at least 30 seconds.
- Place an orange or other citrus peel in the disposal and add a little bit of dish soap the next time you use it. Then, let the cold water run for half a minute, or until you hear that familiar "all clear" sound.

Green & Healthy Living Tips

Switch to Plain Toothpaste.

Those with tartar-control ingredients or added flavors, like cinnamon, may contribute to a common skin condition called perioral dermatitis marked by pimples, redness, and scaling around the mouth.

- Pour about 1/2 cup of vinegar down the garbage disposal and let it sit for 15 minutes to a half hour. Then run the unit with a plenty of water for about 30 seconds. Vinegar is an effective grease cutter and an old-fashioned, but still potent, disinfectant.
- Pour a box of baking soda down the disposal to sanitize it. Then flush it down with a tea kettle full of boiling water.
- Pour concentrated liquid bleach down the disposal for a sink free of soap or chemical residue. Allow it to sit for several minutes with the drain cap on. Remove the cap and run the disposal with cold water for about 30 seconds.

And yes, sometimes home remedies don't work. But don't despair, because there are a number of highly potent garbage disposal products on the market that clean, sanitize, and deodorize all at the same time. It's a good idea to purchase a small supply so you'll have these tiny cleaning balls on hand should the need arise.

Broiled Tilapia with Thai Coconut-Curry sauce

"Tilapia's mild flavor allows the bold flavors of the coconut and curry to shine. Serve this dish with rice, which will absorb the brothy sauce."
